

Succeed as a Team Leader

Team Performance

? The What

Today's team leader is constantly challenged to not only drive positive business results, but to do so more effectively and efficiently than before, while also keeping his/her teams motivated, engaged, collaborative and productive. This is a difficult task, particularly in today's ever-changing business climate.

Learn how to achieve optimal team performance by being the best leader you can be.

- Do you want to optimize your team's performance?
- Are you aware of how your team views your impact and overall professional presence?
- When you coach your team members, is it effective?

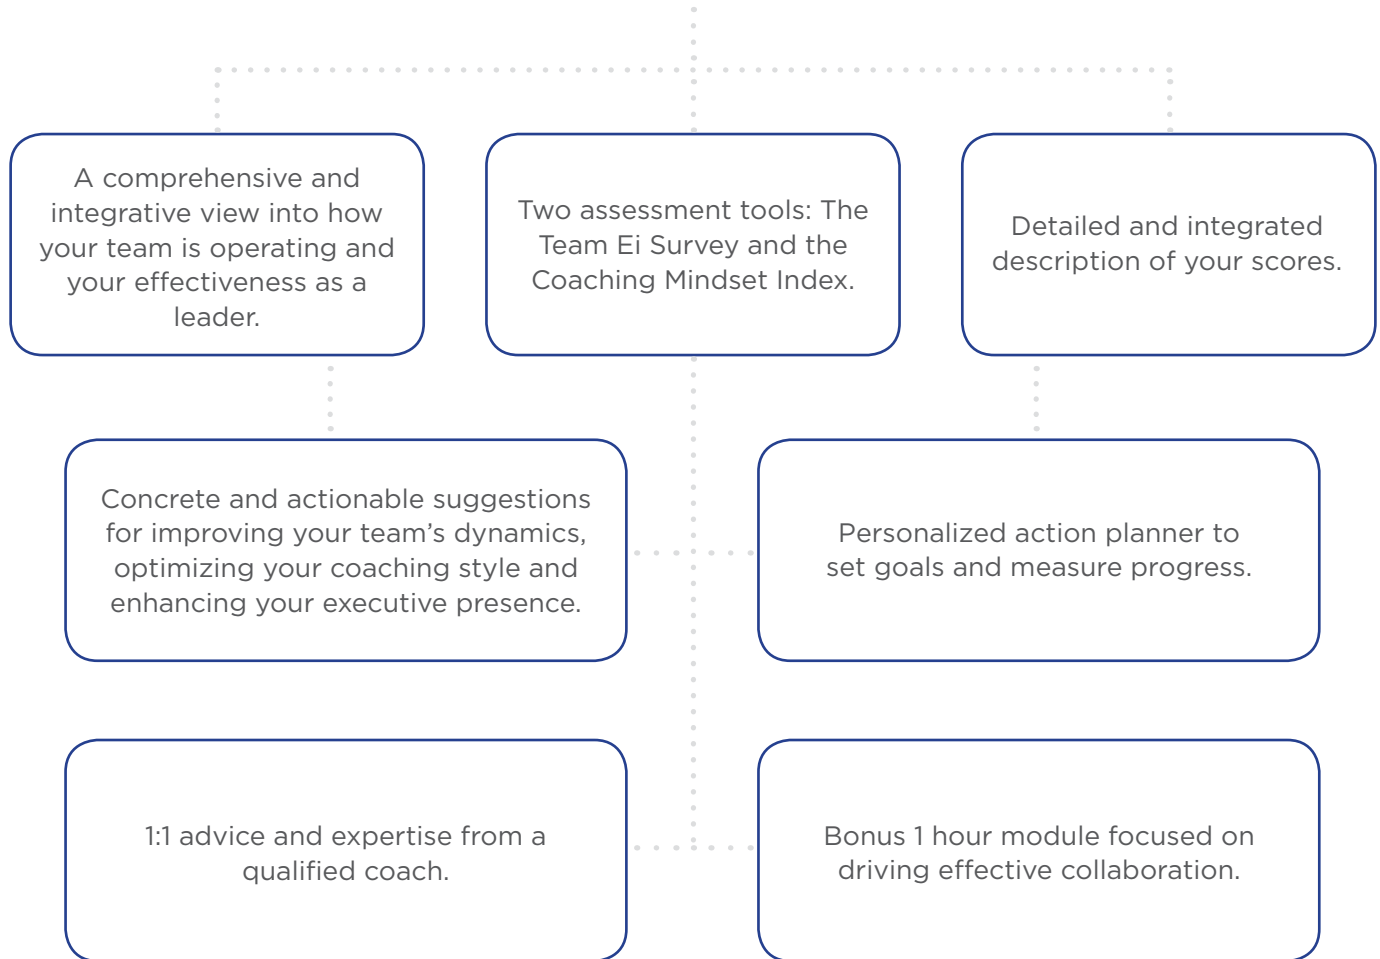

🔧 The Tools

2 Assessments

- The Team Ei Survey, an assessment tool which provides an in-depth understanding of how your team is operating / functioning.
- The Coaching Mindset Index (CMI), a psychometric assessment that provides powerful insights into an individual's ability to help others identify and achieve important goals.
